

It's been 30 years...

Dear Rev. Robinson,

In 1993, Benita Martinez was looking for hope. She was living in SafePlace with her four children and had no way of affording a decent place to raise her family – until help came in the form of Austin Habitat for Humanity.

Moving into her Habitat home changed her life. Not only could her children have a stable atmosphere, but through the money she saved with affordable mortgage payments she was able to put herself through graduate school and help her children through college.

This August, Austin Habitat is celebrating 30 years of service to the Austin community and people like Benita. But in order to do that, you need to be recognized. Without your generous support, 30 years' worth of success stories would not be possible!

You have built 400 new homes, repaired 250 existing homes, and provided housing counseling to over 10,000 people since 1985. You should feel proud of the impact you've made and of all the ways you've changed lives.

Thank you for making the last 30 years something to look upon with pride. The next 30 will be bigger, better, and bring more homes, communities, and hope than ever before. We can't wait to have you by our side along the way.

Thank you,
